The benefits of doctoral and post-doctoral training and how to promote them

- Cutting-edge scientific and technical expertise, methods and processes
- Cross-disciplinary skills: teamwork, monitoring/technology watch (keeping up with scientific literature), managing deadlines, regular reporting...
- Personal qualities: autonomy, creativity, perseverance, ability to bounce back after a failure...
- The ability to tackle a poorly-defined problem that has no known solution and that your boss does not understand in the slightest
- An ability to find the necessary information and skills and to work in an open network
- An international background
- A diploma that is universally recognized

You must be able to illustrate all of these benefits with facts, results and anecdotes.
